What is new?

Microsoft Lists is getting several new features to streamline tasks and help you stay on top of your projects. Soon users will have the ability to comment on list items and @mention specific team members.

When you comment or @mention someone, they will receive a notification which will direct them straight to the list item.

Users will be able to add or delete a comment on list items once to keep the item updated.

What are the benefits?

Direct mentioning capabilities saves time by bringing team members attention to specific items.

A comment feed will help users track the activity and progress of list items in detail. More new features coming soon to Microsoft Lists include custom list templates and the ability to show list items in calendar view in Microsoft Teams and SharePoint.
